

ISDI Project Manager Pam Withers is a long-time journalist, author and editor who has reported for The New York Times, The Seattle Times and The Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Co-author of Values Shift: The New Work Ethic & What it Means for Business with John B. Izzo, Ph.D. (Prentice Hall Canada 2000), Pam has also edited numerous books on business and human resources and served as an editorial director at a tech consulting firm and associate publisher of an investment newspaper.

On top of all that, she is the award-winning author of more than 20 young-adult novels. She lives in Vancouver, Canada.